April 2012

On a chilly, windy First Friday in March hundreds of men and women scurried from venue to venue shopping for vintage, repurposed and antique furniture in the shops inside several West Bottoms warehouses. Cajun Cabin had their catering van parked on the street below the 12th Street Viaduct at the corner of 12th & Hickory, in the midst of the crowds searching for nostalgic furniture items.

Hankering for some Jambalaya, I left my office and joined the Mayhem. My intention was to sit in my car, enjoy my Jambalaya, and watch the crowd walk by.

I changed my eating location to one of the shops and still enjoyed my Jambalaya as I could anywhere. Cajun Cabin's Jambalaya is spicy with nice big chunks of chicken and sausage. I really enjoy the pepper. This is one of those meals that taste so good you know it can't be good for you. Everything in moderation - right.

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of patronizing locally owned businesses. Supporting Kansas City owned and operated businesses is a great way to support our local economy.
