My daughter and I happened onto La Hamburguesa Loca while looking for another joint, and glad we did - great find! I've been back several times since to 3009 Independence Ave., in Kansas City, MO's Historic Northeast neighborhood. Don't drive fast or you'll miss this tiny storefront. It's just west of Benton Blvd. on the south side of the street. The interior is sparse and unassuming. It's void of the stereotypical Hispanic restaurant decoration. I'm fine with that. It's clean, the service is prompt and the best part; the food is great!

The salsa is a terrific combination of cilantro, chopped green onions and garlic. The authentic Enchiladas are spicy with a unique creamy texture. They are prepared with a delicious "house recipe" chicken. Folks that don't typically like refried beans will dig the beans here. The rice complements the dish...Check it out!

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of patronizing locally owned businesses. Supporting Kansas City owned and operated businesses, is a great way to support our local economy.
