EJ's Urban Eatery is located in the building that previously housed Woodswether Cafe at 1414 W. 9th in Kansas City's Historic West Bottoms. The interior has had a complete facelift. It's really crisp & clean with big, shared harvest tables and bar seating. The menu is on the chalkboard and is always changing due to what the chef gets in fresh. The favorites of the day are noted as no longer available in red chalk. Order at the counter, take a number and find a seat. The friendly servers will find you and take your drink order. We've never had a meal we didn't enjoy.

EJ's options for lunch include soup, salad and sandwiches along with their one meat + three sides plate. Their farmer's salad is mixed greens, smoked carrots, sliced grapes, toasted almonds, pickled red onions and brown sugar dressing. Yum! We've also enjoyed the blackened catfish, breakfast ribs with red eye Hollandaise and Bourbon Jalapeños, sautéed green beans prepared with garlic, white wine & herbs, dirty rice and fried green tomatoes with a tasty buttermilk sauce. Very Southern!...Check it out!

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of patronizing locally owned businesses.

Supporting Kansas City owned and operated businesses is a great way to support our local economy.
