The Homesteader Cafe is located at the southeast corner of 7th & Walnut, at 100 E. 7th, KCMO. Husband and wife team Jeremy Lane and Megan Kendall operate a tidy, casual restaurant and bar. The big picture windows and clean, crisp design with earth-tone colors make it very comfortable. I've been there a handful of times for personal and business lunches. The service is always friendly and efficient. I've never been at happy hour, yet I envision it being a hangout for downtown millennial dwellers. The Homesteader Cafe serves homemade dishes prepared with local ingredients.

The chalkboard next to the bar lists the local farmers they source from. I've had their Cuban a couple times and it's really good. It's prepared with citrus and spice-marinated pork, Swiss cheese with pickled slaw and mustard. It's really good. Most recently, my dining companion enjoyed a Bacon Ranch Chicken Sandwich and I savored a crazy great Blackened Catfish Poboy. The blackened seasoning is super tasty!...Bon Appetite!

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of patronizing locally owned businesses.

Supporting Kansas City owned and operated businesses is a great way to support our local economy.
