We discovered McLain's Market at 10695 Roe Avenue in Overland Park this past summer while riding our bikes on the Indian/Tomahawk Creek trails. It was a nice stop to enjoy lunch on one of the several outside tables. We've also visited the McLain's Market Shawnee at 5833 Nieman Road. Both have drive-thru lanes and outside seating if you're not comfortable sitting inside. With this said, they appear to have spaced out the dining seating in both shops. McLain's also has two stores in Lawrence and a bakery in Waldo.

We've tried different menu items on each of our lunches. The Kale Caesar and Mediterranean Chopped Salad are two of Nicole's favorites. A creamy mushroom soup was a special one day that was especially tasty. The Smoked Turkey and CBS (Chicken Bacon Sandwich) are always good and consistent across both shops we've visited...Check it out!

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of frequenting locally owned businesses, especially ones that provide online or phone orders and pick up. Supporting locally owned and operated businesses is a great way to support our local economy.
