Taco Republic is a hip repurposed gas station on the northwest corner of 47th Street & Mission Road in KCKS. The kitchen and to-go window are at the east end of the building, dining in the middle with a bar and restrooms to the west. It feels like every square inch of this site is utilized. Outdoor seating was at a premium on a beautiful fall day. Transparent plastic walls are dropped down over a portion of the building's patio door on cooler days. Radiant heaters are cranked on colder days. The guys at Bread and Butter Concepts are very creative in the restaurant's design as well as their Mexican "street-style" tacos.

Their rojo salsa is tasty with a bit of a kick from the chipotle salsa. I like the Del Mar - a soft taco filled with black tilapia, mojo garlic sauce, guacamole and pico de gallo. Another favorite is the Feliz made with shredded chicken, jalapeno puree, mushrooms, cheddar & jack cheese and cilantro with onion. Recently we tried their delicious Elotes (grilled corn). Yum! Lots more on their creative menu...Check it out!

Buy Local! I'm a proponent of patronizing locally owned businesses.

Supporting Kansas City owned and operated businesses is a great way to support our local economy.
